

Singing Well – Psalm 96

We are all commanded to sing.

God is our audience when we sing.

Our singing is not to be vain repetition, but from the heart as if for the first time every time.

Questions for Discussion & Application

1. What questions do you have about today's passage?
2. How does today's passage challenge you personally?
3. What songs of the faith have most ministered to you? Why?
4. Is the Lord the audience that you think of when you sing in congregational worship?
5. What can you do in order to better "sing to the Lord a new song"?