

Following Paul's Example – I Corinthians 10:23-11:1

---

Liberty should be limited by our love for others (10:23-30).

Living for the glory of God is always linked together with living for the good of others (10:31-33).

We must choose to imitate the right role models (11:1).

Application & Discussion Questions

1. Do you have any questions about the meaning of today's passage?
2. What should you consider to be more important; your rights and freedoms or what will profit and build others up? (See I Corinthians 13:5, Romans 15:2, and Philippians 2:4.)
3. Where do you need to consider what is best for others instead of simply considering what you have the right or freedom to do?
4. What questions could you ask yourself if you are not sure if you should do something or not?
5. Why is living for the glory of God necessarily linked together with living for the good of others? (See Matthew 22:36-40.)
6. Paul encourages the Corinthians believers to imitate him as he imitates Christ. This teaches us the importance of Christian role models. Do you have a Christian role model? If yes, who? Are you a Christian role model for anyone else?
7. How does this passage challenge you personally?
