

Joshua & Caleb Finishing their Races – Joshua 13:1-14:15

At the end of Joshua's days, there still remained much work left to be accomplished.

Even at the age of eighty-five, Caleb courageously pressed on to receive what Moses had promised him.

Questions for Discussion & Application

1. What questions do you have about today's passage and message?
2. Even if we have lived a long and fruitful life, we will inevitably leave behind much work left undone for God's Kingdom that we must pass along to others. How might this reality influence the mindset and perspective of older Christians who are coming close to the finish line of their lives?
3. Joshua gave instructions for the distribution of the land as an act of preparation for Israel to finish receiving it. How can one generation of Christians prepare the next generation to continue receiving what God has promised?
4. In Caleb, we see strength, courage, and zeal to receive his inheritance and to fight the Anakim even though he was advanced in years. How does Caleb's example of living out his faith in his eighties challenge us to greater faithfulness?
5. How might older Christians invest their final years well for God's Kingdom?
